Abraham Yohan George

Indian Olympian - Athletics (Sprint)

Biographical Summary

Abraham Yohan George (born July 1974) is a former Indian track and field athlete who competed as a sprinter. He represented India at the 1992 Summer Olympics in Barcelona, participating in the sprint heats.

Early Life and Training

Abraham Yohan George received his athletic training at the Ekalavya Sports Hostel, Moodbidri, Karnataka. The hostel was a privately run sports institution founded and administered by Dr. Mohan Alva and operated independently of the state sports system.

Ekalavya Sports Hostel played an important role in identifying and training young athletic talent during the late 1980s and early 1990s.

Sport! Sport! Sport!

Karnataka Boy in Olympic Heats

A Karnataka boy, Abraham Yohan George, represented India in athletics at the 1992 Summer Olympic Games in Barcelona, competing in the sprint events. The 18-year-old sprinter took part in the preliminary heats but did not advance beyond the opening round. of the fox's dense coat. George trained at the Ekalavya Sports Hostel, Moodbidri, a privately run sports institution founded by Dr. Mohan Alva. He had earlier made his mark on the domestic circuit as a state and national-level champion, performances that earned him selection to the Indian Olympic contingent.

Karnataka Boy Runs at Barcelona Olympics

Though eliminated in the heats, George's participation placed him among the limited number of Indian athletes to compete at the Olympic Games, a notable achievement for Karnataka athletics.

Domestic Career

At the national level, Abraham Yohan George competed in Indian athletics competitions and achieved recognition as a state and national champion in sprint events. His performances at domestic competitions led to his selection for international representation.

Olympic Participation

In 1992, Abraham Yohan George was selected to represent India in athletics at the Summer Olympics held in Barcelona, Spain. He competed in the sprint events and participated in the heats, but did not advance beyond the preliminary rounds.

Participation at the Olympic Games remains a significant achievement and places him among the select group of Indian athletes who have represented the country at the Olympics.

- Name: Abraham Yohan George
- Born: July 1974
- Sport: Athletics (Sprint)
- Olympics: 1992 Summer Olympics, Barcelona
- Training Institution: Ekalavya Sports Hostel, Moodbidri, Karnataka
- Founder of Institution: Dr. Mohan Alva